Section 1	Background & Needs Statement
Section Amendment	The NEEDS STATEMENT section of the Central Grays Harbor RFA Plan is subject to amendment by a majority vote of the Governing Board.
Adopted	July 8, 2021
Revised

A. Background

1. The two agencies commissioned a study in 2019, the ESCI Report, to evaluate the potential for efficiencies gained by integration. The study revealed there were numerous opportunities to gain efficiency, avoid duplication, avoid cost, or otherwise operate stronger together than separately.
2. The ability to respond to emergency incidents by each agency is significantly dependent upon assistance by the other agency. Each agency is significantly limited in providing fire and emergency medical services consistent with industry standards due to resource constraints.
3. Both agencies provide advanced life support (ALS) ambulance transportation services to their constituents, as well as to a larger regional network of agencies which brings in additional revenue for each agency. Both are challenged to meet the needs of their communities while meeting the needs of the broader region for ALS transport services.

B. Needs Statement

1. The two cities cooperate on responses when requested, but there are numerous efficiencies and benefits to be gained from full integration which are identified in the ESCI report.
 2. The ability to respond to emergency situations by fire protection/emergency medical services jurisdictions has not kept up with the community's needs and service demands.
 3. Providing a fire protection and emergency medical service system requires a shared partnership and responsibility among the local and regional governments and the private sector.
 4. There are efficiencies to be gained by regional fire protection and emergency medical service delivery while retaining local control.

5. Timely development of significant projects can best be achieved through enhanced funding options for regional fire protection and emergency medical service agencies, using already existing taxing authority to address fire protection & emergency service needs and new authority to address critical fire protection projects and emergency services.
6. The agencies feel compelled to pursue these regional efforts for cost effectiveness and efficiency for the benefit of their respective citizens.
7. The City of Aberdeen and the City of Hoquiam will be asking their citizens to consider combining all functions and services provided by the two jurisdictions into a single entity, called a Regional Fire Authority.

Appendix C – Benefit Charge Methodology & Formula

Section 1. Benefit Charge. The RFA Governing Board shall fix and impose a benefit charge on personal property and improvements to real property located within the RFA, which have or will receive benefits provided by the RFA to be paid by owners of such properties.

1.1. Method of Apportionment. The total benefit charge authorized by this resolution shall be reasonably apportioned among the affected parcels of property initially [by the general method described below] in accordance with RCW 52.26.180, and 52.26.190 subject to ongoing modifications by the RFA Governing Board.

1.2. Amount of Benefit Charge. The benefit charge for each year shall be set in the year preceding imposition of the charge after a public hearing to review and establish the amount of the benefit charge pursuant RCW 52.26.230 and shall not exceed 60% of the RFA's operating budget.

1.3. Notice of the Benefit Charge. Subsequent to the public hearing, property owners will be notified in writing each year of the benefit charge and the amounts thereof to be charged in the subsequent year.

1.4. Review Board. Subsequent to establishing the annual benefit charge and notifying the property owners, the RFA shall form a review board pursuant to RCW 52.26.250. The review board shall be convened and available for at least a two-week period to hear and decide written appeals from property owners regarding their particular benefit charge assessment.

Section 2. Effective Date. If approved by the voters, the continued benefit charge shall be imposed on the affected properties beginning January 1, 2023.

Section 3. Fire Benefit Charge (FBC) Calculation and Initial Formula. The benefit charge assessment shall be based on the size and use of the structural improvements made to real property. These two factors have a direct correlation to the fire risk posed and the level of resources that would be required to respond to fire related incidents.

Size is determined by finding the total square footage of all improvements on a property. Total square footage is determined by adding all gross square footage (outside measurements of building(s) and all floors, basements, garages, and other such outbuildings are added together to determine total square footage) on the property.

A properties' use shall be categorized using three use types: residential (single and double family occupancies including mobile homes), multi-family or apartments, and commercial structures.

Based on these aforementioned factors, the RFA shall use the following formula to determine the benefit charge for each tax parcel:

$$FBC = (\text{Square Root of the Square Footage} \times 18) \times \text{Use factor} \times \text{Cost/Gallon} \times \text{Discount}$$

- The first segment of the formula (square root of the square footage times 18) was established by the Insurance Services Organization (ISO) as a mathematical method to determine the required fire flow for a given structure.
- The “Use factor” is used to modify the required fire flow based on the risk associated with a given type of structure based on its use and size.
- The “Cost per gallon” is the multiplication factor that when used with the modified fire flow calculations will produce a value equal to the desired benefit charge collection.
- The discount factor is the amount of discount that is applied to eligible parcels owned by low-income senior and disabled citizens and for structures with automatic fire sprinkler systems.

Use factors modify the required fire flow calculation up or down based on the risks associated with the property’s use and the level of service (staffing and apparatus) that would be required to respond to provide the services offered.

The proposed formula utilizes three categories of Use Factors:

- Residential (Mobile Homes, single family and duplex residences)
- Multi-family
- Commercial

Each of these categories are further broken out based on an assigned risk, as follows.

Residential (Mobile Homes, Single Family and Duplexes)

Mobile Homes: - .9

Up to 1500 sq. ft. – 0.9

1501 to 2500 sq. ft. – 1

Over 2501 sq. ft. – 1.1

Multi-Family Complexes

Regardless of number of units or sq. ft. - 2

Commercial

Up to 5,000 sq. ft. – 1.1

5,001 to 10,000 sq. ft. - 2.2

10,001 to 25,000 sq. ft. - 3.2

25,001 to 50,000 sq. ft. – 4.2

50,001 to 100,000 sq. ft. – 5.2

Over 100,001 sq. ft. – 6.2

Discounts

The FBC is discounted for parcels that are protected with approved fire suppression systems. Justification for this type of discount is directly related to the suppression system probability of reducing the level of service required. Based on a review of the number of sprinklered structures and like agencies, a 10% discount is adopted for approved fire sprinkler systems.

Senior citizens and disabled persons who have qualified through Grays Harbor County for a senior or disabled person property tax exception shall receive a discount on the benefit charge. Depending on the level of income, the low-income discount may reduce the benefit charge by 25%, 50% or 75%, pursuant to RCW 52.26.270.

Exemptions

The benefit charge shall not apply to improvements to real property owned by recognized religious organizations, and the following:

- Public primary and secondary schools and other institutions of higher learning.
- Property of Housing Authorities or other non-profit entities offering housing to very low-income households.
- Property of other entities or organizations subject to exemption provided by RCW 52.26.180(2)

Note: Government properties that are exempt from property taxes are not exempt from the benefit charge.

Initial Breakdown Using This Methodology by Property Type

The objective was to establish a formula and associated set of use factors that would apportion the benefit charge based on the same ratio of the mix of different occupancy types.

The chart below depicts the resulting benefit charge collection by occupancy type using the recommended methodology.

Revenue Derived from FBC Methodology by Occupancy Type
Category	Square Footage		Revenue Collection
Residential	17,132,081	72.70%	$3,500,231	72.70%
Multi-Family	968,971	4.10%	$197,969	4.10%
Commercial	5,456,825	23.20%	$1,114,876	23.20%
Total	23,557,877	100%	$4,813,076	100%
